Ex-Tax Collector Held Responsible For Money Loss

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Stephen C. Pastrick, former Harrison Township tax collector, was acquitted by a Criminal Court jury Friday night of charges he embezzled $67,000 in school tax funds, but he was held responsible for the money's loss.

The jury of four men and eight women found Pastrick guilty of default in payment of monies collected by his office and failure to pay over such monies on demand.

Counsel for Pastrick said a motion for a new trial would be filed Monday. Pastrick's bond was continued.

If the conviction should stand, Pastrick would be ineligible to hold office as justice of the peace, a post to which he was nominated on the Democratic ticket last Tuesday. State law holds that a person convicted of a felony cannot hold office in Pennsylvania.

Pastrick said the verdict was "definitely not" a partial victory.

"I am not guilty of any degree of malfeasance in office. I should have been acquitted on all three charges," he said.

The jury received the case at 10:36 a.m., e.d.t., and returned the verdict at 7 p.m.

Disarmament Talks Today

WASHINGTON (UP)— President Eisenhower today summoned top advisers to an unusual Saturday meeting at the White House to stamp final approval on new American disarmament proposals.

The ideas that come out of the special morning conference will be carried to London where disarmament negotiations with Russia are scheduled to resume Monday. Presidential disarmament adviser Harold E. Stassen plans to leave here Sunday for the conference.

Besides Stassen, others called to the White House meeting were Secretary of State John Foster Dulles; Deputy Defense Secretary Donald A. Quarles; Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission; Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and Robert Cutler, the President's adviser on national security matters.

Eugene Grace Highest Paid

NEW YORK (UP) — Eugene G. Grace, chairman of the board of Bethlehem Steel Corporation, was the highest paid corporate executive in the country last year with a salary of $809,011, a survey by Business Week disclosed Friday.

After taxes, Grace had take-home pay of about $133,000, the magazine said.

Grace replaced Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, as top salaried executive. Curtice's salary was said to be $695,000.

Other top salaries in 1956 were said to be: Arthur B. Homer, president of Bethlehem Steel, $669,176; Crawford H. Greenewalt, president of Du Pont, $600,886, and Robert E. McMath, vice president of Bethlehem Steel, $514,310.

Sunday Services Are Planned for Three Faiths

Baccalaureate services for Monessen High School seniors will be held in three different churches tomorrow morning, afternoon and night.

At 9 a.m. a communion breakfast will be held for Catholic students at the Polish National Alliance Hall following a high mass at St. Hyacinth Church. The breakfast is being sponsored by the Knights of Columbus and Catholic Daughters of America.

At 3:30 p.m. students belonging to the Russian, Greek, Syrian and Ukrainian Orthodox churches will attend combined services at St. John the Divine Russian Orthodox Church. The church pastor, the Rev. John Govrusik, will be in charge. Also taking part in the services will be the Rev. Michael Yarosh, of St. Nicholas Ukrainian Church, the Rev. Ioakim Isidoridis, of St. Spyridon Greek Church, and the Rev. John Koury, of St. Michael's Syrian Church.

Religious Medal

The Orthodox students, all of whom will be presented with a religious medal, will be guests at a full course dinner following services. Families and friends will be served light refreshments.

At 6 p.m. the Monessen Ministerial Association will hold a banquet at Johnson's Restaurant. Services will follow at the First Baptist Church. Dr. Leroy Cass, of the First Methodist Church, will deliver the Baccalaureate address. The Rev. Lloyd Erb, of the First Baptist, will be host. The Rev. Paul Trout, of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, is in charge of arrangements.

Also participating will be the Rev. E. W. Jarrett, of the Union Baptist Church; the Rev. Vernon H. Bowers, of the First Christian Church; Mrs. Ernest Owens, First Baptist Church choir director, and Mrs. Hannah Smith, organist at the latter church.

Official Count Board Begins Work in County

Two boards of four women each yesterday at 1 p.m. started to canvass and compute the votes cast in Tuesday's primary election in Westmoreland County.

The boards making the official count were appointed yesterday by the three County Commissioners, acting as the County Board of Elections.

The Election Board has appointed three guards for each board to be on duty continuously until the vote is counted.

Monessen voters are anxiously awaiting the official count to learn the winners on the Republican ticket. Republican nominations for local offices could not be determined after Tuesday's balloting because of a mix up in counting in several precincts.

The official count of Monessen ballots is not expected to be started until late Tuesday or Wednesday morning.

Atom Test Sunday

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP)— The Atomic Energy Commission today hoped to fire one of two nuclear devices Sunday to launch its 1957 summer test series.

Armed Bandit Robs Charleroi Cab Driver

A well-dressed armed bandit held up a Charleroi cab driver last night on a deserted highway near Bentleyville and relieved him of $8 in cash.

State Police in Belle Vernon today are on the alert for the thug who escaped in a taxi owned by the Charleroi Taxi Co. The cab was found in LaBelle last night by Brownsville police. However, no trace of the thief was discovered.

The cab driver was identified as Nick Kartiak, Lincoln St., Charleroi. Police said Kartiak told them the thug left him stranded on the lonely road, until a passing motorist gave him transportation to Bentleyville.

Kartiak reportedly stated the bandit was picked up as a regular fare on Fallowfield Ave., Charleroi, for a trip to Bentleyville. Once in the Washington County community, however, the man, seated in the rear seat, ordered Kartiak to drive on to Beallsville.

Before arriving there, the thug placed the barrel of a pistol against the back of Kartiak's neck and ordered him from the car. The man demanded Kartiak remove his wallet and throw it on the front seat. Then, he re-entered and drove off, leaving Kartiak behind. Kartiak was not injured in any way, police said.

Kartiak gave the following description of the thug:

White, blonde hair crew cut, no hat, light complected, well built, six feet tall, 190 pounds, wearing a light colored sports coat, tan trousers and a bow tie.

Fellsburg Widow To Get Degree Monday at CSTC

A 40-year-old Fellsburg widow, Mrs. Anna H. Hass, will see a dream come true Monday when she receives her Bachelor of Science degree in elementary education at commencement exercises at California State Teachers College.

Mrs. Haas, whose husband, William, died of a heart attack in 1952, entered CSTC in September, 1954.

"Entering college took 20 years off my life," Mrs. Haas stated.

While in college she belonged to the Geography Club, College Players and Monvalea, a bridge club.

She completed her student teaching yesterday at Republic School.

A native of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Haas moved into the Monongahela Valley in 1937.

"Teaching," Mrs. Haas said, "has always been my dream."

At Least 31 Tornadoes Hit Southwest Friday

LAWTON, Okla. (UP)—At least 31 tornadoes swept across the storm-battered southwest late Friday, killing four persons, injuring a countless number of others and destroying more than 200 homes and one school.

Several other persons were reported missing and searchers feared the death toll would mount.

Forecasters said the prevailing weather today posed a threat of new twisters over the five-state area of Texas, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Colorado and Kansas.

Friday's outbreak, which followed a wave of tornadoes that struck the area earlier this week, was described by the U.S. Weather Bureau as one of the worst in a single day in years.

Hardest hit was the town of Lawton, in southwest Oklahoma, where all four recorded deaths occurred. Ten others were hurt, four seriously, when three twisters rocketed through the small farming community almost simultaneously.

The new rash of twisters brought to at least 181 the number that has swept across the Southwest this week. More than 50 persons were reported killed in an earlier siege on Monday and Tuesday.

$1,000 Awarded In Civil Suit

A flat $1,000 was awarded parents of a Belle Vernon girl who claims she was served a bottle of soda containing a mouse.

The verdict was returned by a Washington County jury that had heard testimony in the civil suit between Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sethman, of North Belle Vernon, on behalf of their daughter, Diane Lynn, against the Coca Cola Bottling Works of Charleroi.

Judge George T. Cummins presided over the trial in which the verdict was returned late yesterday afternoon after about two hours of deliberation.

Wilson Tells GOP 'Look Over Shoulders'

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson sharply reminded Republican leaders of President Eisenhower's "great popular" following Friday night and told them it was time to line up behind the President's programs.

Speaking at a $100-a-plate fund raising dinner, Wilson told the party faithful to "look over your shoulders and see if the voters are still with you."

Chiang Takes Personal Command in Formosa

U.S. Makes Protest Against Riots; 12 Americans Are Hurt

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP) — President Chiang Kai-Shek returned to Taipei today from his retreat in southern Formosa to take personal command in the tense situation arising from the anti-American riots, it was officially announced.

Foreign Minister George Yeh conferred by phone with the generalissimo at his vacation home on Sun Moon Lake during the height of the demonstrations which erupted in Taipei Friday.

The United States made a strong protest against the riots in which at least 12 Americans were injured and the U.S. Embassy and other American property wrecked.

Nationalist Chinese officials held almost continuous meetings today, to consider the situation and discuss how the breach with the United States could be repaired.

Cabinet Meets

Premier O. K. Yui's cabinet met in emergency session and rumors were growingit would resign as a gesture of apology to the American government. However, the prospect of such action appeared less likely by the hour.

It was acknowledged here that the riots left a serious scar on American relations with the government of President Chiang Kai-Shek. The Nationalist Chinese government made it crystal clear it would brook no further disorders.

Taipei was under martial law. Three divisions of Nationalist Chinese troops were brought into the city to guard against any possible new disturbances. Lt. Gen. Huang Tsen Wu, Taipei garrison commander, issued an edict making 10 specific crimes punishable by death.

The city resembled an armed camp. But life was as near normal as the martial law would permit.

Troops Patrol Streets

Thousands of Nationalist troops patrolled the city on foot and in vehicles to crush any attempted new outbreak.

The orgy of violence was touched off by the acquittal by a U.S. Army court-martial of an American sergeant on charges of shooting a Chinese peeping tom.

The soldier, M. Sgt. Robert G. Reynolds, of Colora, Md., was flown out of Formosa with his wife Friday. A mob tried to attack the car carrying them to the airport.

At least 10,000 Chinese participated in the rioting. They left the U.S. Embassy, the U.S. Information Agency headquarters and other American buildings in shambles. They smashed and burned American automobiles, attacked Americans and stoned U.S. Ambassador Karl Rankin.

Rankin flew back hurriedly from Hong Kong Friday. He visited the wrecked embassy compound with Chinese Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh. A Chinese hurled a brick at their car.

The compound was littered with office equipment and documents hurled from the windows by the inflamed mob. Unable to gain entry into the embassy code room because of the iron door, a number of rioters smashed through a wall and scattered top secret papers, including the American code, to the winds.

Automobiles and trucks in the compound were set afire. The United States flag was torn down and a Nationalist banner run up in its stead.

Pay Hike For Steel Workers

NEW YORK (UP)—David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, said Friday about 750,000 workers in the steel industry would get a pay raise of 12 cents an hour, starting July 1.

McDonald, speaking at the biennial meeting of the USW's District 4, said a cost-of-living increase of 3 cents an hour would be coupled with a raise of 9 cents when the union's three-year contract with the industry goes into its second year July 1.

The cost-of-living raise will last until Jan. 1, he said.

McDonald said the wage boosts would benefit 600,000 workers in the basic steel industry and 150,000 in steel fabricating industries.

The USW chief also hit at Donald C. Rarick, McKeesport, Pa., steelworker who has been a leader in the protest of last September's dues increase and who was defeated by McDonald in the election for the USW presidency in February.

Slams Protests

McDonald said the dues protest campaign had convinced some management leaders the union was weak with dissension. He said he had heard that a certain group of leaders of the American steel industry are saying this is the time to destroy McDonald."

"I say to these leaders, that first they're not going to destroy McDonald, and second, they're not going to weaken or destroy the USW," he said.

McDonald admitted the opposition to September's $2 a month dues increase "has not yet desisted." But he said he did not think "this kind of internal warfare should go on forever."

McDonald said he had knowledge of an organization, backed by "certain selfish people in American industry" who are planning to send cadres of young men to school at $6,800 a year "to learn to be union busters."

He said the trainees "will be placed on company payrolls" after their course of study in order to infiltrate and destroy the trade unions. He said they would be paid $7,000 a year in addition to their salary for the job.

"This is just getting started, and I don't think it's in the steel industry," he said. "But I want the men behind this to know that we know what is going on."

Bowling Green Student Shot Following Riot

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (UP)—A Bowling Green State University student suffered serious leg wounds early today in a shooting incident that followed a riot of more than 1,500 students against university drinking regulations.

The shooting and riot apparently were not connected, according to the Wood County sheriff's office.

However, university President Ralph McDonald set up a four-man faculty committee to investigate both incidents, and expelled 12 students as ringleaders.

Everett Miller, 20, Clyde, Ohio, was in serious condition at Wood County Memorial Hospital as doctors struggled to save his leg.

According to deputies, Miller was shot by Richard Crum, 25, a gas station attendant, who told deputies he fired at the youth and two companions, when the three broke a window in his trailer home.

Miller, Russell Knofel, 21 Cleveland and Charles Huston, 19, Monroe, Mich., followed Crum home from a Bowling Green tavern, deputies said.

McDonald said the riot early Friday stemmed from a "planned" demonstration against disciplinary action expected to be taken against the Sigma Chi and Delta Tau Delta fraternity chapters. Both were charged with violating university drinking rules.

Newlyweds Separated

Peoples Gas Co. Sales Attache Gets Promotion

Robert Pettigrew, native of New Kensington and resident of Monessen, has been appointed area builder representative for The Peoples Natural Gas Company.

A well-known sales representative of Peoples' Southern Division, which includes Greensburg, Latrobe, Monessen and Glassport, Pettigrew has been with the company since April, 1955.

Pettigrew, in his new assignment will assist local builders in various projects, according to Russell A. Hall, Southern Division supervisor of sales.

A 1939 graduate of Arnold High School, Pettigrew was formerly manager of the appliance department at Klingensmith Hardware, New Kensington and assistant manager of the W. R. Gott appliance department in Arnold.

He is a member of the Monessen Kiwanis Club and the First Christian Church of Monessen.

Beck Is Given Blunt Warning To Quit Post

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)— One of the largest Teamsters councils in the country gave Dave Beck a blunt warning Friday night to resign immediately or face forcible removal as president of the giant Teamsters Union.

There has been a growing grass-roots campaign for Beck's removal because of his refusal to answer questions of a Senate Rackets Committee about his conduct of Teamster affairs and use of the union's funds.

In a resolution voted unanimously by representatives of 67,000 Teamsters, the Bay Area Joint Council declared "Beck's intolerable position has adversely affected" the Teamsters and called on the union chief to quit his position immediately.

If Beck refuses to step aside voluntarily, the council said the union's national Executive Board should be convened to "remove him from office forthwith."

The resolution was approved in a 15-minute session of the council and was the first such action against Beck taken by any of the union's joint councils.

Disappearance of Woman Puzzling; Son Gets Call

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The investigation into the disappearance of a missing Elizabeth Township woman took a puzzling turn Friday night when a son said she telephoned their home and reported she was "okay."

George DeVirgilio, 16, said he received the call at 6 p.m., e.d.t., and was certain it was his mother, Mrs. Mildred DeVirgilio, who disappeared Tuesday night. He said she spoke in a low voice and that she was calling from Ravenna, Ohio.

However, Allegheny County Detectives and Elizabeth Township police said telephone company records showed no call from Ravenna to the DeVirgilio home. They believed any call must have been made from the immediate Pittsburgh district.

Ravenna police said they had been asked to be on the lookout for the woman, but they doubted she was in the Ohio city.

Allegheny County detectives also reported they had located a brother of the missing woman in the Dubois area and were told by him that another sister had been living at Ravenna.

Meanwhile, county detectives still were holding Leroy Daugherty, 30, who has admitted writing notes, described by police as threatening in nature, to Mrs. DeVirgilio. Daugherty has been named correspondent in a divorce action filed by Mrs. DeVirgilio's estranged husband, George A., 43.

County GOP to Pick Nominee Before June 22

Edwin A. Swink, Republican chairman of Westmoreland County, yesterday announced that selection of a Republican nominee for the vacancy on common pleas court will be made by June 22.

The vacancy was caused by the death of Judge George H. McWherter on April 17.

Candidates for the position will be named by the Republican and Democratic nominees, and the names must be certified to the state Election Bureau by Sept. 21.

The County Democratic Party has yet to make an announcement on its selection for the vacancy.

Swink said the matter will be considered by the county executive committee at a meeting to be held the week of June 3. A meeting of the entire county committee can be called after 10 days have elapsed.

"We hope to have a nominee by June 22," Swink announced, adding that nominations at the county committee meeting will be open.

Nominees selected by each party will occupy the third position. Each party selected two nominees in the primaries Tuesday because terms of the incumbents expire December 31.

All three judges elected in November will serve terms of 10 years.

$200,000 Settlement in School Bus Accident

A $200,000 settlement will be shared by 10 former Rostraver High School students, all of whom were injured more than four years ago in a bus-train accident at Colfinsburg.

The awards will be apportioned according to the severity of the injuries.

The settlement was reached yesterday between the 10 and the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Co. and the Doernte Bus Lines.

Four students were killed and 44 injured when a Doernte bus was struck by a Pittsburgh & Lake Erie freight train at a fog-shrouded crossing at Colfinsburg near West Newton, Sept. 17, 1952.

The case was tried before Judge John J. Kennedy but after seven days was transferred to Judge Harry M. Montgomery who agreed that the 10 cases should be consolidated.

Attorney James J. McCardle in his arguments before the jury charged the railroad with negligence for operating at a high speed. He said the crossing had been obscured with bushes, had no flashing lights and that the train did not sound a whistle.

The bus company was accused of failure to use care and caution in transporting minors.

Sharing in the settlement are Nancy Dawn Spreeke, 19, Joyce G. Flannigan, 20, Thomas Smith, 20, Norma Jean Wiley, 19; Robert Smith, 22; Marilyn Foehringer, 19; Santa Maria Altimarti, George Shively Jr., his sister, Rose Marie and Jennie Carole Syoka.

Since the accident six have married, two are engaged and all were able to finish school. Other cases are still pending.

School Budget Is Proposed in Donora

The Donora School District has presented a proposed budget for the 1957-58 school year calling for $773,800.

The boost in expenditures will mean an increase of two mills, bringing the total millage to 32 if the budget is adopted.

Polio Proves Fatal

Billy Graham Carries Crusade Into the Street

NEW YORK (UP)— Evangelist Billy Graham preached on the garish, neon-lighted city streets of New York Friday night to thousands of persons turned away from his Madison Square Garden crusade.

Standing on a table on the sidewalk just a short distance from "Strippers Row" and the bright lights of Broadway, the 38-year-old North Carolina minister spoke to the vast overflow audience for more than 10 minutes.

"As you are standing here you can be saved tonight! You don't have to be in the Garden — in a church — to find God," Graham, with a bible tucked under his arm, told the more than 2,000 persons jamming the streets around the Garden.

More than 50 sidewalk listeners made "decisions for Christ" after his brief sermon on the city's streets.

Inside the famous sports arena Graham addressed his largest audience since he began his crusade here 10 days ago. A total of 21,200 persons jammed the Garden which has a seating capacity for 18,500.

After Graham's sermon, another 847 persons came forward to make "decisions for Christ." These brought the crusade's 10-day total up to 6,676.

BRAVE WORDS
That's my daughter Ellen standing up there in her cap and gown. Valedictorian of her class! I'd be a strange mother if I didn't feel a lump in my throat, and a tremendous surge of pride.
It just doesn't seem possible that my Ellen is grown-up. Like any mother, I have visions of a tiny baby . . . a little girl in pigtails . . . a child, beginning school.
And now here she is, speaking about the future that she and her classmates envision . . . the things they are going to try to do . . . their hopes and dreams.
They are brave words, all of them . . . brave dreams. And like all parents, I pray that most of them will come true. But I know that in times of failure, my Ellen will have an added strength because of her Faith, and her devotion to the Church.
How glad, how thankful, I am for that!
HOLY BIBLE
THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily

ROSTRAVER TOWNSHIP

Fellsburg Webster Pricedale

Correspondent: Mrs. Mary Echart — Phone B.V. 514

Tri-Hi-Y of Rostraver Holds Recent Meeting

Senior members of the Rostraver Tri-Hi-Y were given special recognition at the recent meeting of the club held in the High School.

Lois Ahlborn, president, and Eleanor Kurylo, program chairman, gave a tribute to each senior member. Gifts were presented to each graduate by Joyce Bazilwich and Carol Boltze.

The devotional program was given by Jo Ann Nelson, assisted by Patty Warner and Frances Guzzo.

The officers for the 1957-58 term who were recently installed are president, Lois Ahlborn, vice-president, Dianne Badock, recording secretary, Carol Victoria; corresponding secretary, Joyce Kohler; treasurer, Carol Boltze, and chaplain, Jo Ann Nelson.

A report showed that contributions from Rostraver High School for the Dick Kadis Fund amounted to $225.11.

Miss Helen Estok, secretary to the principal, was a special guest.

Webster Church Picnic June 29 Near Ligonier

The teachers and officers of the Webster Presbyterian Church met on Thursday evening at the home of Kathleen Leckenby. The purpose of the meeting was to make arrangements for the Sunday School picnic to be held June 29 at Deens Park near Bentleyville.

Lunch will be furnished by the Sunday School and arrangements will be made for transportation.

Lunch was served to Margaret Riedel, Virginia Fagan, William Maurer, Pete and June Cupples, Dora Ritchie and Pauline and Muriel Kriston. The church choir is planning a congregational dinner to be held on June 14 in the Sunday School room.

Hildy's Future Faith Decision Still Unknown

MIAMI BEACH (UP) — Hildy McCoy Ellis, the six-year-old girl whose interfaith adoption battle attracted the notice of the nation, probably will be reared in the Jewish faith of the couple fighting to keep her as their child.

But the Melvin B. Ellises, who won the right to stay in Florida with Hildy when Gov. Leroy Collins refused to extradite them to Massachusetts to face kidnaping charges, said they will not decide definitely on her religious training at least for a year.

Hildy's real mother is a Roman Catholic. She said after she had permitted the child to be put up for adoption that she did not know at the time that the Ellises were Jewish.

"It is wonderful when the whole family worships together," Ellis said. "Perhaps that will be the deciding factor."

At one point in their long legal battle, the Ellises offered to raise Hildy as a Roman Catholic if they could be permitted to keep her. They are of the conservative Jewish faith.

"She's getting preliminary religious training such as the belief in God, right now," Ellis said. "But, I'll tell you frankly, my belief is that all religions are good. She will be made aware of all other religions and when she is old enough to understand, she can make a decision for herself."

Mr and Mrs W R Lower, of Amherst Terrace, visited on Thursday with local relatives.

Rebels Thwarted In Attempt to 'Invade' Cuba

HAVANA (UP)— Cuban Interior Minister Santiago Rey charged today that former President Carlos Prio Socarras, now living in Miami, financed and engineered an "invasion" of Cuba Friday by a 25-man revolutionary group.

The army reported it captured two of the 25, Lazaro Guerra and Armando Garcia. The navy seized the yacht Corinna, which landed the revolutionaries on the coast of revolt-ridden Oriente province near the town of Mayari.

Rey, after a conference with President Fulgencio Batista, claimed "the landing was a failure."

"It was carried out by unscrupulous parties sent by Dr. Carlos Prio Socarras to upset the peace," he said.

Army headquarters said in a communique that one of the captured men said the landing party left Miami May 19. The communique quoted him as saying Socarras coached them to say they came from Mexico if they were captured.

The communique said the two men claimed to be enemies of Cuban rebel leader Fidel Castro because "he is an ally of the Communists."

Prize Winners At Legion Party

Another in the series of weekly card parties was held on Thursday evening by the Ladies Auxiliary to the American Legion Post in the Post Home. There were 11 tables in play. Special prizes were won by Lena Hollander and Mrs. Von Ewart. The guest prizes were won by Helen and Mark Wilson.

Winning the awards for five hundred were Stella Kerekes, Mrs. Oscar Strenske and Mary Peroney, for euchre, Mrs. Ewart, Ann Lucas, Betty Lucas and Ruth Bruce.

Mary Riskey was general chairman and was assisted by Mary Ferrari, Emma Jarvis, Alice Smith and Evelyn Komlos.

May Queen Event Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock there will be a May Queen crowning ceremony at St. Sebastian Church for the first time in several years. Miss Dorothy Luzanski, prefect of the Young Ladies Sodality, will be the May Queen and members of both the Sodality and Junior Sodality will be in the court.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. Henry Marcinek, assistant at the Most Holy Name of Jesus Church of Monessen.

The service is open to the general public.

Happiness Club in Scottdale Meeting

Members of the Happiness Club were entertained on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hester Warburton, of Scottdale.

Cards were played and the prize was won by Violet Carly, of North Charleroi.

Luncheon was served and plans were made for the next meeting, which will be in two weeks to be held at the home of Violet Carly.

Parish Lawn Fete At St. Sebastian

The week of July 8 to 13 has been designated for the Parish Lawn Fete to be held at St. Sebastian Church. Alex Touche and T. J. Barger will be general chairmen of the event and the men of the parish will be asked to serve on the committee. The women of the church will assist with the many special activities.

All proceeds will go toward the church debt.

Marion Ninth Graders Get Promotion Certificates Here

Promotion certificates were presented to 103 ninth grade students at Marion Junior High School yesterday afternoon in annual year end promotion ceremonies.

Parents and friends were in attendance to see the students receive certificates from Robert VanBremen, supervising principal of the Bellmarette Joint Schools, following a program presented by the students, who will next year take up their studies as sophomores at Bellmar High School.

The class entered to the processional music of "Holy, Holy, Holy", after which James Potts, class president, extended the welcome.

Joan Pesi read the class history and a trumpet solo was played by Richard Thomas.

The class prophecy was read by Colleen Auther and Leo Valdiserri, and was followed by a clarinet solo played by Mary Jane Demko. Barbara Renkey read the class will and Marcia Coates played a saxophone solo.

Marion Junior High School Principal Harold Underwood then spoke briefly and the awards were announced for the outstanding students.

The Washington Township Parent Teacher Association awarded $25 bonds to two outstanding ninth graders, Joan Pesi and Emil Revala and the Washington Township Lions Club plaque went to Ronald Coates and Diana Strickler.

Also presented were the annual awards made by Brightwell Daugherty Post of the American Legion of Fayette City and its Ladies Auxiliary to eighth grade students, James Batwinis and Linda Wilson.

Joseph Sedlak continued the program with a trumpet solo after which the gift to the school was presented by Emil Revala and accepted by Paul Jesick, of the eighth grade.

The chorus sang "Mary and Martha", a traditional spiritual and "Bless This House". Valerie Vanucci was the reader.

After the students received their certificates they sang the "Alma Mater" folowed by the recessional.

Judy Salay was the pianist.

Unfinished Business

WE HOPE that word "forward" has not been completely buried with the sound and fury of the election just passed. A little forward motion ought to be applied to the proposed housing ordinance which City Council has had under wraps for over ten months.

Council last year asked the City Planning Commission for recommendations on local housing which would help the administration wipe out existing slums and make certain we wouldn't grow new ones in the future.

Early last August, after extensive study, the Commission proposed an ordinance spelling out minimum standards for dwellings old and new. It suggested a practical program for bringing the ordinance into enforcement gradually over a two year period. This would have the effect of minimizing hardship to property owners but would get the city promptly on a higher housing standard, a pressing need. The ordinance has not yet had its first reading.

A housing code like the one proposed is, as Council knows, one of the required tools in any planned program of civic improvement. Furthermore, it's a condition of qualification for state and federal aid in redevelopment plans like those in which the City is becoming involved.

The administration has been successful in enlisting some able private citizens to do much of the hard work connected with civic improvement. The Council on its part has an obligation to move promptly on the local legislation which will be required in the course of the program.

Clay-Footed Idol

FRANK COSTELLO, the big-time gambler, was released from prison this week after a little sojourn, and on hand to greet him were two detectives, two attorneys, his bail bondsman, reporters, and 18 small boys, most of them teen agers. We're clear on everyone except the kids.

One reporter said the youngsters, some of whom had waited four hours to see Costello, cheered him and crowded around him in attempts to shake his hand. Then there was a touching scene as Costello, walking rapidly away, flanked by his attorneys, pulled one red-haired lad to him and affectionately tousled his hair. Then, smiling, he shook the hands the other youths thrust at him.

The hero here is a guy who has spent most of his 66 years systematically breaking the law and subverting the system of government on which this country is run. He has in the course of time defied everyone from the cop on the corner to the U. S. Senate. He just happened to be in jail this time because he defied a grand jury which wanted an explanation of the $700,000 memo in his pocket concerning slot machine and gambling winnings.

Hero-worship is considered normal in growing boys, and adults are usually patiently indulgent when the objects are the Lone Ranger, Rin Tin Tin, or even Elvis Presley.

But the boy who sees heroic qualities in Frank Costello needs to be set straight. Those 18 youngsters in that cheering section are pretty mixed-up kids, and somebody needs to go to work on them promptly. For the teen agers among them it's a good bit later than their parents think.

Turnover in France

FRANCE is experiencing another political crisis. The government of Socialist Premier Guy Mollet has fallen after 16 months, the longest period of survival for any regime since the end of World War II.

This apparently interminable upheaval must be most unnerving to the French people. But to those of us on the outside the instability of French politics is beginning to give France a kind of stability. We can be certain that the internal politics of France is uncertain, and we can look to its more permanent attributes as a basis for international understanding and negotiation.

Obviously a country which can weather so many storms must have enduring qualities. What are some of them?

We know the country is rich in natural assets and is strategically situated for the ground defense of the western world. From our historical experience both allied with and opposed to the French we know them capable of feats of arms both imaginative and brave. We know of their strong nationalistic pride. We know them as substantial contributors to the world's art and culture. We know from observation that they have administrative skills which show up in an efficient postal service, efficient national railways, an efficient civil service.

The French should have a bright destiny. Some day they must learn to pick leaders who can help them realize this destiny. The rest of us wish they would get to it before vacillation becomes their national trait.

One test of a candidate's deep regard for his community is the length of time after the election it takes him to remove his name and face from the landscape.

Today and Tomorrow—

President's Plea for Foreign Aid

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The President was in good form on Tuesday. The message to Congress on foreign aid, and the shortened version of it which he broadcast in the evening, were clear and full of conviction. They were well designed to win the argument with, indeed to silence, those who do not like anything about foreign aid and would like to see the end of it all.

Mr. Lippmann

The question which remains is whether in addressing himself to the extreme opponents, the President did not fail to come to grips with the practical problem, which is the desire of Senators to cut these appropriations so they are not opposed to the policy.

For there is missing in the message and in the speech any reference to the real issue before Congress. That is not whether the policy of foreign aid is a good one but whether Congress should accept the Administration's estimate of what is needed to carry out the policy. The President's argument on Tuesday came down to saying: "If you believe in the purposes of foreign aid, you will support my estimate of how much money I need." Yet, in fact, it is not the policy nor its purposes which are seriously attacked. It is the estimates which are under critical scrutiny. The President does not have to worry about an extremist like Sen. Goldwater but about Sens. Knowland, Bridges, and Lyndon Johnson who support the policy but disagree with the estimates.

The fact is that in a matter of this kind there can be no such thing as an exact estimate of how much money is needed. The President now believes that $3.8 billion is the right figure, and that to cut below it would be to descend from a safe bet to a reckless gamble. Sen. Bridges believes that $3.4 billion rather than $3.8 billion is the right figure, and who can prove that 10 per cent more or less is the difference between prudence and recklessness?

Decide on Judgment

The moral, it seems to me, is that as between varying estimates, none of them precise or certain, the country cannot decide which estimate is the right one. It must decide whose judgment it will trust.

It is not possible for the public to make its own estimates of what is necessary. On the whole, the President, under whom the policy is being made and administered, is entitled to the benefit of the doubt. He cannot hope to be exactly right, even perhaps within a margin of error of 10 per cent. But his chances of being very wrong are considerably less than are those of any one — private citizen or even Senator — who is not at the center of these complex operations.

The President has himself reduced by over 10 per cent the estimates he offered in January, and a certain reduction of his present estimate now seems probable. Sen. Bridges would like to cut another 10 per cent of the reduced estimate, and it will not be easy for the Administration to prove that he is gambling recklessly.

But there is a line, though no one can say exactly where it is, below which to cut more is to risk a failure somewhere of the policy. That line, we might say, is this side of what Sen. Bridges proposes.

Merry-Go-Round—

Uses Meat-Ax on Bureaucrat

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Texas' Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the astute and charming Democratic leader, has a persuasive way of putting his nose almost against another Senator's, then telling him how much he loves him and how important it is to work together. Lyndon was busier than a bird dog doing this during the debate on cutting the U. S. Information Agency budget last week.

Mr. Pearson

Two huddles were especially significant. They were with Sen. Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts, who's been boomed as vice presidential running-mate with Lyndon in 1960; and Sen. Joe Clark of Pennsylvania, second Democratic mayor to be elected in Philadelphia since the Civil War.

Previously Clark and Kennedy had challenged Johnson's steamroller tactics in cutting the U. S. information budget. Johnson presided over the appropriations hearings on the U. S. Information Agency, printed some 1,200 pages of testimony, then expected his colleagues to read it and vote intelligently in less than 24 hours.

Hot Interchange

"The hearings comprise a book of 1,231 pages," complained Kennedy, "which became available to us on Monday."

"They became available this morning," interjected Senator Smith of New Jersey, referring to Wednesday.

"I would like to know how we could be expected to know very much about the subject," continued Kennedy.

"Are you questioning the judgment of the committee?" shot back Johnson. "If you'd been listening you might learn something."

"I have been here listening for three hours," replied Kennedy. The implication was that he had learned little from Johnson's speech. (Part of this exchange was later censored from the Congressional Record.)

Later Senator Clark expressed the same complaint.

"I made every endeavor, through the efforts of my staff yesterday, to get the committee report and the committee hearings, but I was unable to obtain them."

Johnson replied that Clark should have asked him direct. However, this is not the job of a Senator. He is supposed to have hearings of important bills sent him automatically several days if not a week in advance in order to vote intelligently.

The truth is that the hearings were not printed until Monday night, were not delivered to Capitol Hill until Tuesday, and most Senators did not see them until Wednesday morning, the day they were asked to vote.

"The fact that none of the Senators have had time to read the many pages of testimony — to get the heart out of an agency which is vital to the country's interested is almost irresponsible," complained Senator Case of New Jersey, Republican.

Later, Johnson was seen huddling with Democrats Clark and Kennedy. He told them, separately, this was a personal issue, that as chairman of the subcommittee which recommended gutting the U. S. Information Agency he must have their vote. He got it.

Only one Democrat, Neuberger of Oregon, stood up to vote against the powerful, persuasive Democratic leader of the Senate.

The Truth vs. Lyndon

What Johnson did not tell his colleagues was that he did not tell the truth in presenting his demand that the USIA budget be gutted.

On at least three important points Johnson deliberately misled fellow Senators. They were:

1. He charged that the USIA was competing with American press associations when two letters had been read in the hearings from the Associated Press and the International News Service stating this was not the case.

2. He charged that USIA had added 200 press employees when actually it employed 200 Filipino and Lebanese printers and bookbinders to publish propaganda in Manila and Beirut.

3. Johnson accused USIA of spending $1,400 a week on a jazz band TV program in Mexico City, when actually three pilot shows only had been staged in Mexico City.

However Senators who had no chance to read the hearings had no way of knowing that Johnson was not telling the truth.

What Johnson did tell them, and told them eloquently, was that USIA was headed by Arthur Larson, the architect of "modern Republicanism." This, on Capitol Hill, is a dirty word.

Larson not only wrote the Eisenhower bible on modern Republicanism, but foolishly delivered a speech on April 16 in Hawaii blasting the New Deal. A man who needs to get appropriations from a Democratic Congress doesn't make such a speech.

Result: Johnson tore him to pieces in committee hearings, scarcely let him testify, put politics ahead of propaganda and the importance it plays in the cold war. Larson was a poor witness in the first place but when Johnson finished he was a dishrag.

Then Johnson cut almost 30 per cent out of the USIA budget request and demanded that the Senate vote on this before any Senator could possibly read the hearings.

In contrast, Rep. John Rooney, Brooklyn Democrat, held 11 days of careful hearings, stuck to propaganda problems, not politics, pruned so judiciously that the USIA can still function with his recommended $105,000,000.

With Johnson's cut — down to $89,000,000 — some of the most important U. S. propaganda in the cold war will be eliminated just as Russia is stepping up its cold-war budget.

Modern vs. Old Guard GOP

Bill Knowland of California, the experienced Republican Senate leader, was debating freshman Dick Neuberger, the Oregon Democrat, at the recent Indianapolis Gridiron Club dinner. Knowland chided Neuberger on the fact that the Democratic party was split while there was no split among Republicans.

"Right," replied Neuberger. "There is no split among the Republicans. They're all against liberal legislation.

"The only difference between modern Republicans and Old Guard Republicans is that Old Guard Republicans both speak and vote against liberal legislation, while modern Republicans only vote against it."

Corning Leaders Take Interest in Community

By HARRY R. PORE, Jr.

CORNING, N. Y. — Twice blest is the industrial city the leaders of whose industry have identified themselves personally with the community.

A two-day visit to this headquarters city of the Corning Glass Works makes this thought stand out even above the handsome new buildings which are being dedicated today.

The city of Corning as a community and the Corning Glass Works as a company have achieved what must come close to being the ideal relationship between a one-industry town and its one industry. And the partnership is obviously profitable for both.

Corning is about the size of Monessen — some 18,000 people. And it is also like Monessen in that about 8,000 persons are employed by Corning Glass.

But the striking difference between Monessen and Corning, at least to this visitor, lies in the fact that the top management of Corning Glass from Chairman Amory Houghton down are making their homes and rearing their families in Corning.

I have made it a point to inquire into this relationship between town and company. I talked about it with top executives of the company, with several younger members of management, — and with townspeople, including the friendly folks at The Leader, Corning's progressive newspaper, who showed me through their fine new plant with justifiable pride.

Not 'Company Town'

My impression is that while the top leadership of Corning Glass has made itself an inseparable and probably indispensable part of the community it has not fallen into the error of paternalism. In other words, Corning is not what could be called a "company town".

Mr. Houghton and all of his executives and most of the company's directors live in Corning. I saw many of their homes on the quiet residential streets, mostly in an older part of town. Several of the houses are large and obviously comfortable. But not at all pretentious.

Corning has had a postwar development which has included many new homes. Many of these have been built by people in the so-called "middle management" group of Corning Glass and also give the impression of comfort and good taste without flashiness.

As an example of the way in which the leaders of Corning Glass identify themselves with the community, Mr. Houghton, now U. S. Ambassador to France, serves as an elected member of the school board. And I was told he actually serves and has been one of the guiding spirits in a modernization of the public school system. (One has to wonder if such a man could even be elected a school director in Monessen).

Yet the Corning Glass management does not push its ideas and personnel on the community.

The improvements in the school system, for instance, were not Mr. Houghton's ideas — but he liked them and helped put them to work.

Good Relations

One of the executives at the Corning Leader told me: "I really sometimes wish the company would be more agressive in pushing things through. But they bend over backwards to avoid any possible complaint of domination".

My guide on a tour of the city was the manager of one of the design departments, a technical man. But he spoke with such understanding of the good citizenship of his company in the community of Corning that he could be transferred tomorrow to the public relations department.

The main purpose of this trip was to inspect the new facilities and to be present for the formal announcement of the latest Corning Glass research development called "Pyroceram".

But I will leave here today convinced that the spectacular success of Corning Glass Works is due as much to the management's understanding of employe and community relations as to its business competence and the brilliance of its research. What I am trying to say is that things like "Pyroceram", important as they are, are not all that Corning Glass Works produces. It also is helping to make here a prosperous, progressive cultured American community, and it is demonstrating for anyone who wants to see that this can be done without the paternalism that any self respecting city would find distasteful.

On the Lookout for The Ginseng Plant

By JOHN H. DAY

The ginseng grows rarer with each passing year. "Sang" hunters are ever on the prowl for the few plants which still persist in rich, cool woodland areas, to dig and dry the thick fleshy roots, which command a fancy price per pound. Most of the ginseng roots go to China, where they are thought to possess miraculous qualities in preserving health and restoring manhood. Particularly are those roots prized which are forked with a two-legged man-like appearance. Nearly every mountain area has one stream named Sang Run from the days when the plant was common along its banks.

During the weekend I got involved with an entourage of botanists, rambling some choice hillside terrain to see what we could see. One objective was a plant or two of the retiring woodland citizen whose roots are said to have at one time been worth their weight in gold in old Pekin. In the fall when the bright scarlet bean-shaped berries glow at the center of the three leaves, the ginseng is not at all hard to locate.

But right now, with the forest floor a mass of greenery, picking out the plant takes the practised eye of an old hand at "huntin' sang". The three long-stemmed leaves grow in a whorl at the top of the foot-high stalk. Each leaf is palmately divided into five pointed and irregularly toothed leaflets, looking much like the common woodbine leaf. Add to this the fact that woodbine was setting up shop all over the place and we had our work cut out.

The Three Leaves

We formed and reformed, traversed and deployed, and were almost to the point of giving up when one of the party turned up the elusive quarry. There were the three leaves, with the rudiments of a budding stalk which will not flower until July. Once we had a plant in focus and the eye knew what to look for, we noted a few other plants nearby in short order. As Thoreau said, you have to think arrow-heads to find them. So with hunting out the famed ginseng.

In my own hiking bailiwick I know where there is still one tremendous plant, which must have a root-stalk as big as a gigantic parsnip. I go each fall to harvest the seeds and plant them in hidden spots, just to help along a plant which will soon be extinct unless the demand for its so-called medicinal power falls off. It gets its name from the Chinese Schin-sen, which means "like a man", and its specific name "Panax" is the classic term for "cure-all".

Shortly before we caught up to the ginseng we had quartered down across a hillside where the largest patch of shin leaf pyrola I ever saw has staked out a claim. Here also were the straw-colored flowers of the perfoliate bellwort, and the starting rosettes of the lamb's tail, a not too common member of the lily family. We moved too close to a small dogwood on the steepest part of the slope and a setting grouse thundered out and away from her nest at the base of the tree.

Three Violets

There were at least seven eggs in that cozy cup. We didn't go close enough for a full count for fear of disturbing the situation too much, or perhaps guiding a fox to that woodland hideaway. In the small stream at the foot of this hill one of our group scooped up a two-lined salamander who was not the least interested in visiting with us. The golden saxifrage was growing in the stream, a leafy plant which I had always thought was one of the sedums.

We saw three beautiful violets in our round of the hills. First was the Canada Violet, holding up its white, purple-veined blossoms on tall leafy stems. Then we encountered a station of the long-spurred violet which is of a pale lavender hue. In the wet bottomlands were huge clumps of the hooded marsh violet, a regal beauty, favorite of flower lovers everywhere. The little sweet white violet with the nearly round leaves was also in full flower.

Perhaps the most gorgeous flower we saw, and certainly the most interesting to me, was a hillside station of the celadine poppy. The plants were in full flower, shining yellow blossoms perhaps an inch across, gleaming like miniature suns against the dark background of the undergrowth. I had never seen this flower in the wild. To come upon it on that enchanted hillside, lighting the whole area with glorious golden color, was a rewarding experience.

New Members for Regina Lodge Here

Four new members were welcomed into the order when the Regina Lodge of the Sons of Italy met on Thursday evening in the Sons of Italy Hall. They were Mrs. Veronica Catanzaro, Mrs. Sue Trozzo, Mrs. Rose Phillips and Mrs. Mary Evans.

The oath was administered by Mrs. Elvera Dimperio and application for membership was received from Mrs. Mary Giovenelli.

Reports Given

Mrs. Angeline Bosco, venerable of the lodge, was in charge and the opening was conducted by Mrs. Mary Bitonti. Routine reports were given by the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mary Santoro and Mrs. Jennie Bucci, financial secretary. Mrs. Rose Tegnelia presented the financial statement.

Mrs. Katherine Furio reported on a successful fund raising project and Mrs. Angeline Imbrogno gave the report of the annual Mother's Day-Anniversary dinner, which honored Mrs. Rose Sabol. Mrs. Bosco thanked all those who assisted in making the dinner successful.

Plans were made to give the annual award to a graduating senior girl at Monessen High School Class Night.

Change Meeting

It was decided to change the next meeting to June 20 instead of having it on the regular meeting night on June 27. The change was made necessary due to the annual State Convention, which will be in session for five days beginning June 25. Mrs. Bosco will be delegate and Mrs Mathilda Furio will be alternate. The members of the June and July committees will be in charge of the social that evening since there will be no meeting for the month of July. The August meeting will be held at the City Park in the form of a corn roast.

Social Held

A social hour followed with Mrs. Tresa Parente as chairman assisted by Mrs. Tresa Dodaro, Mrs. Helen Mazzer, Mrs. Rose Phillips, Mrs. Frances Capozza, Mrs. Jennie Bucci, Amelia Moio, Mrs. Ann Spadafore, Mrs. Amelia DeRose and Mrs. Beulah Santoro.

The birthday prize was awarded to Mrs. Biagia Mancini and the guest prize was awarded to Mrs. Natalini Yannitti. The special award went to Mrs. Stella Mascitelli.

LOCALS

Mrs. A. B. Clingerman, of 464 Motheral Ave., has returned home after spending a month with her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Boag, of San Antonio, Texas. She also attended the graduation of her son, Wade Clingerman, as an Air Cadet at his Texas base. Airman Clingerman came home with his mother and after a leave he will report to Mississippi for further training.

Elma Louise Cekola and Patricia Cervantes represented Janosik's Drug Store at the Max Factor Cosmetic School at the Carlton House, Wednesday, in Pittsburgh. They were served refreshments in the Town and Country room. Accompanying the girls were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Janosik, aunt and uncle of Miss Cekola.

Elected officers of Western Pennsylvania Council B'nai B'rith will be installed at a banquet tomorrow at the Summit Hotel near Uniontown. The B'nai B'rith Lodge of Uniontown is in charge of arrangements and activities have been planned for the full day.

Mrs. Leonard Cook, 31 Reed Ave., sustained a fractured ankle in a fall on May 10 and this week has had the injured member placed in a cast. She is getting along nicely.

Jay P. Schumm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay C. Schumm, of Graham Ave., who is stationed in Florida with the U. S. Navy arrived home Wednesday by plane to spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Sinchak and family have gone to the Pocono Mountains, Hazelton area and New York City for a short vacation and business trip.

Mrs. Robert Bergstedt and infant daughter have returned home from the Monongahela Memorial Hospital, where they were patients.

Clarence Crawley, 514 Tenth St., is a patient in Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh. His room number is 223.

St. Paul Class of Ruth Entertains for Mothers

A Mother-Daughter banquet was held recently by the Class of Ruth of St. Paul Lutheran Church at Ghennes restaurant on the Coyle-Curtin Road, Monongahela R. D.

Dinner was served at 6.30 at a table decorated in keeping with th Spring season. Miniature summer chairs were used as favors. Each mother present was presented with a mother of pearl pin and earring set as a gift.

Mrs. Margaret Caldwell, class teacher, gave the welcome and invocation was asked by Mrs. Mildred Rose, class president.

Mrs. Caldwell was in charge of the program. She gave a horoscope reading for everyone present. A musical quiz was featured with those present identifying old and new tunes. Mrs. Betty Frick was at the piano for the quiz. Mrs. Sara Johnson was the prize winner.

Other games were played and winning prizes were several members of the group.

Attending the party were Mrs. Caldwell, Martha Burkhart, Mildred Rose, Minnie Rose, Betty Frick, Floretta Meyer, Margaret Bachuchin, Elizabeth Szabo, Mary Lou Piasecki, Edna Symons, Eilene Kimmell, Helen Rapp, Marilyn Bieneck, Jennie Chludzinski, Elaine Frick, Sara Johnson, Jean Morgan and Marie Morgan. A special guest for the evening was Mrs. Paul Trout, wife of the church pastor.

B.P.W. Members Installation At Playhouse

The Hospitality committee, which is composed of past presidents of the Monessen Business and Professional Women's Club, met at the home of Mrs. Gloria Mahalko, on Wednesday evening.

The session was devoted to planning for the annual installation of officers of which this committee is in charge. The meeting will be held on Wednesday June 12, in the talent room of the Pittsburgh Playhouse.

Transportation will be furnished by chartered bus, which will leave the local terminal promptly at 5:30. A full course dinner will be served preceding the installation ceremonies.

The remainder of the evening will then be spent in attending the musical presentation of "Off The Top". The telephone committee under the direction of Mrs. Tillie Kudlick will be in charge of the reservations.

Another committee has been active within the week for the club program. The career advancement committee convened at the home of Jean Miller, on Tuesday evening, to select the recipient of the annual club scholarship, which will be presented at the Commencement ceremony held next Wednesday by Monessen High School.

Ruth Hornbake is chairman of this committee.

Former Local People Attend National Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Meyer, of Salem Road and Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Neth, of Coal Center, former residents of Monessen, have just returned from attending the 13th annual convention of the National Association of Watch and Clock Collectors held in Dearborn, Mich.

The Neths were members of the association and while in Dearborn the Myers became members.

The Great Lakes chapter was the host chapter for the sessions held in the Dearborn Inn and special activities included a visit to the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village. G. H. Hedrick presided at the sessions.

The two women attended a tea at Lovett Hall at Greenfield Village and the four attended the banquet that concluded the convention. The association was formed as a non-profit group in 1943 and continues to increase in membership both in the United States and abroad.

Trinity Women Thank Offering Set Tomorrow

The annual meeting and United Thank Offering ingathering will be held by the Woman's Auxiliary in the Diocese of Pittsburgh Episcopal Churches on Thursday, June 6, at Calvary Church, East Liberty.

In preparation for this ingathering the women of Trinity Episcopal Church will turn in their UTO envelopes at the morning worship service tomorrow at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Marion Baker is UTO chairman and will arrange for the presentation of the offering at the ingathering.

While the UTO is emphasized within the Women's Guild of the Church every woman in the church is urged to take part and make a contribution.

The June 6 Diocesan session will begin with Holy Communion at 10 a. m. with Bishop Austin Pardue as the celebrant. The church pastor, the Rev. Dr. Samuel Shoemaker and other clergy of the Diocese will assist.

Speaker of the day will be the Rev. Dr. Vin DeLoria, a full blooded Indian, who has spent all his ministry working among his people. He is at present in charge of Indian work for the whole church under the direction of the National Council.

A luncheon of sandwiches and coffee will be served for a small charge and so reservations must be made in Pittsburgh by June 3. Local reservations should be made with the Guild president, Mrs. Ray Lear, as soon as possible since the Guild will not have a meeting until after this session.

There will be a nursery held during the meeting so that women with children may attend.

Confraternity Plans Meeting

The Confraternity of Christian Mothers of St. Cajetan R. C. Church will meet on Tuesday evening following the St. Anthony novena in the church hall.

After the business session there will be a social hour with Mrs. Florence Dastolfo as chairman of the committee in charge.

In observance of Mother's Day, Mrs. Bambina Carlucci will be honored as the "Mother of the Confraternity".

Eagles Auxiliary in Meet

Mrs. Wilma Dolinsky, president, was in charge of the Thursday evening meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Eagles held in the Aerie Home on Schoonmaker Ave. Mrs. Ann Kantsi, conductor, was in charge of the roll and Mrs. Josephine Boyd led in prayer and the pledge of allegiance.

Routine reports were given by Mrs. Julia Fritz, secretary, Mrs. Jane Cheroki, treasurer and Mrs. Margaret Griggs, trustee.

The anniversary banquet was planned for tomorrow at the home and dinner will be served at 6 o'clock. Local talent will be presented in the program with Thea Dominico as co-chairman. In the evening music for dancing will be by the Komatz Trio.

Local Candidates

Four local candidates were initiated last Sunday at the Zone meeting held in Monongahela, Josephine Swansick, Laura Hammerash, Flora Kyle and Mary Santora. Many honors were extended to the local lodge at this session.

Past State President and zone leader from Irwin congratulated Mrs. Min Crum for her efforts in the membership drive and Mrs. Fritz for her work as secretary.

Mrs. Margaret Hupchick, past president, now serving as state inside guard was also honored and Mrs. Wilma Dolinsky was given a prize for having the largest number of members present.

Birthday handkerchiefs were presented to Dorothy Wendel, Rose Teano, Edith Nichols and Stella Andriscovich.

Plan Party

A card party was planned for next Tuesday and the pubic is invited. Mrs. Mary Stetsko will be chairman with Mary Victoria, Georgetta Fizer, Romaine Secletar, Ann Tremback, Helen Trembback, Lisa Canova, Rose Kossar, Fulvia Chitester and Jean Ciglar serving on the committee.

Installation of officers was planned for June with the men's lodge.

Named to the June 13 lunch committee were Ann Kantsi, chairman, Mary Karbowsky, Christine Katsuleris, Dorothy Kessler, Kathleen Kessler, Irene Kerekes, Helen Kilvady, Ann Kittle, Elizabeth Klein, Julia Kotch, Ann Kobaly and Wanda Kohan.

Mrs. Ann Bobola is reported as ill in the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital.

On March 21 and September 23, day and night are of equal duration in every part of the world.

Mascetta Has Talk with Ozarks

After the Monessen Ozarks lost their fourth straight game to Fayette City in Mon Valley League action the other night, club president Tony Mascetta kept the players in the dugout for a pep talk. Mascetta feels the Ozarks have the stuff to be real pennant contenders despite the slump . . . Speaking of the Ozarks, they've committed 20 errors in their first eight games. Offensively, the Monessen boys have produced 54 runs, which isn't too bad . . . Up Brownsville way, they'll open the current Little League season next Wednesday in real style. A group of celebrities, including sportscaster Bob Prince and Brooklyn pitcher Ed Roebuck, will be on hand for the opening-day ceremonies.

* * *

The sports department at West Virginia University, has prepared a 25-minute sound film entitled "Basketball Highlights of 1957." The movie shows the best from the Mounties highly successful season. Of course, Hot Rod Hundley is the star. The film is available free of charge . . . Incidentally West Virginia biggies are somewhat embarrassed by the manner in which Hundley pulled out of school once the basketball season ended. Coach Fred Schaus points out that nine of 11 varsity basketballers under him have not only graduated "on time" but with good grades as well.

What's This Fuss About Pitt

And who will agree with us that all the fuss over academic standards at Pitt was rehearsed and not spontaneous? The student sports editor of the Pitt paper predicted that the Panther sports fortunes would dip because of increasing academic standards at the school. That permitted school officials to point out that Pitt athletes are intelligent to begin with. It also let the world know that Pitt's academic standards are high . . . But then, shouldn't they be? . . . Pirate shortstop Dick Groat is two months ahead of last year's pace in the all important RBI column . . . Another Buc, Gene Freese, drove in five runs and scored six times himself on his first nine hits this season.

A defeated political candidate in Donora showed his "sportsmanship" by driving around town following the election with a white flag flying from his auto antenna . . . Alex Zelenski, president of the Charleroi Chamber of Commerce, scored a hole-in-one the other day at the Blue Ridge Country Club near Harrisburg. His ace came on a par three, 177 yard hole. A little later, Zelenski dropped a shot within 18 inches on another hole and wound up with an easy birdie . . . The Pirates have home games throughout the first 16 days of June.

Plan Another City Playground

Monessen will have another equipped-playground before long. Councilman John (Butch) Molnar, who is in charge of city parks, reports that an area is now being readied on Athalia Avenue at south 14th Street. The civic-minded Lions Club has promised to equip the site, according to Molnar . . . The July 4th baseball game between the Pirates and Brooklyn will be televised from Ebbets Field. This will be a make-up of the May 19 tussle at Cincinnati which was not telecast because of a special Armed Forces Day TV show . . . Monessen Ozark pitcher Bill Mitnick, a real control artist, has given up just five walks in 46 innings on the mound this season.

MHS Tennis Team Bows Out

Locals Lose In Semi Final Play

Monessen High's doubles team advanced to the semi-fiansl of the PIAA tennis tournament at Penn State yesterday before bowing out.

Joe Kurey and Jim Baker easily survived their first assignment in the state-wide tournament, defeating Bob Stock and John Krause of Pittsburgh South Hills, 6-2 and 6-0.

However they lost in their semi-final test to Ronald Bell and Charles Friedman of Lancaster McCaskey by scores of 6-4 and 6-2.

Despite the setback, MHS coach Antoinette Valentine said she was pleased with the job turned in by Baker and Kurey.

Simply Outstanding

"This Friedman and Bell are simply outstanding," commented Valentine. "They should walk away with the title today. It seems to me that the only team in the tournament with a chance to beat them was Monessen."

The Greyhound tennis tutor also pointed out that Kurey and Baker are both juniors while Friedman and Bell are seniors.

"I hope we'll be back next year," she added.

The Monessen boys will stay at University Park until this evening before returning home.

Nice Time

"We've had a nice time and the boys seem to be enjoying themselves even though they're a little down-hearted over their loss," said the MHS coach.

Today Bell and Friedman will meet Howard Whitcomb and Lee Steele of Bethlehem. The Lancaster boys are heavily favored to sweep that test.

Another Lancaster lad, Allan Koth, will meet Larry Sobel of Easton in the singles finals.

The WPIAL singles champ, Walter Berberich, of Latrobe, lost to Sobel in a gruelling match, 6-2, 4-6, 7-5.

Charleroi Rips West Newton, 10-0

Charleroi had no trouble swamping West Newton, 10-0, in Mon Valley League play last night.

George Zuraw led the attack with a three-for-three slate. Adam Vlanich coasted to a three-hit win.

Score by innings:

| | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| West Newton | 000 | 000 | 0—0 | 3 | 4 | |
| Charleroi | 320 | 032 | x—10 | 8 | 1 | |

Allenport Loop Ump Assignments

Booking Agent John (Dibby) DiBiaso today announced these umpire assignments for the Allenport League.

Monday — Trilli and August; Lipnicky and Adamson.

Tuesday — Adamson and R. DiBiaso; Santora and J. DiBiaso.

Friday — Santora and Alessio; Kovatich and August.

Italian Hall Raps Ravens Easily, 12 - 3

The Ravens are red-faced today.

They waited almost three weeks to make their City Softball League debut because of repeated postponements. Last night they finally got in on the fun, and what happens?

Well, Italian Hall romped to a 12-3 win, that's all. For the proud Ravens, a setback like that is hard to take.

Hank Dellamalva was the big villian as far as the Birds were concerned. He hit a grand slammer in the third inning to break the game wide open.

Meanwhile Steve Hardoby worked the route on the hill for the Italians, limiting the Ravens to six hits.

Sekoski Hot

Italian Hall had a great day at bat, collecting 16 safeties. Rail Sekoski had four hits and Delmar Frew three.

Lou Kunka was the Ravens big gun at bat, connecting for a triple.

Fayette City Tops Donora, 4 to 3

Fayette City moved into a first place tie in the Mon Valley Baseball League standings last night by nipping Donora, 4-3.

Mike Panich worked the route for the winners, fashioning a four hitter. Ewing Bell was the offensive star, with a pair of hits including a homer.

Elmo Natali, former Monessen High athlete and current baseball coach at Monongahela, made his pitching debut for Donora and responded with a good four-hitter even in a losing effort. Ron Quinto had two hits for the losers.

Akins Seeks Basilio Bout After Big Win

WASHINGTON (UP) — Virgil Akins, following his impressive third-round TKO Friday night over young Jimmy Beecham, today demanded a title bout with welterweight king Carmen Basilio.

But Beecham and his manager, Angelo Dundee, fumed at the decision and clamored for an immediate rematch.

Beecham, a native of Philadelphia who now makes his home in Miami, Fla., was up at the count of nine but Referee Marty Gallagher stopped the fight.

"They shouldn't have stopped it after only one knockdown," Beecham said angrily.

But Gallagher said "Beecham was dazed and his eyes were staring straight ahead."

Akins, of St. Louis, said he is through fighting lightweights and middleweights. His manager, Ed Yawitz complained he has not been able to book enough welter bouts "because no one wants to take him on."

New Eagle Nips Perryopolis, 1-0

New Eagle nipped Perryopolis, 1-0, in Mon Valley League action last night behind two-hit pitching by Vic Furiga.

The lone run was scored in the fourth inning on a walk and two-base error.

Stan Burkholder worked the route for the losers, tossing a three-hitter.

Vans Hand Ozarks Their Fifth Loss In Valley Action

The most disastrous week in Monessen Ozark baseball history came to an end last night.

The Ozarks lost their fifth straight game at Van Voorhis, 6-1.

They started the week in first place, but after the tailspin they now find themselves deep in the second division.

For a while it appeared as though the Monessen boys were on the right track again last night. They battled the Vans to a 1-1 tie through four innings.

However in the fifth, the home team exploded for four runs to ice the contest.

Two Homers

Mike Shuback and Ron Neccial slammed homers for the winners. Shuback also had a double and single to his credit.

Fuzzy Anderson was tagged with the loss while Paul Lazzari fashioned a four-hit victory for the Vans.

Monessen opened the scoring in the second inning when Pappy Johnson singled, stole secod and came home on Bill Valla's double.

The Vans tied it up the same inning on Neccial's single and Bill McClintock's two-bagger.

In the fifth, the roof caved in. Lazzari opened for the Vans with a single. Jim Wujick beat out a bunt, Shuback then homered into deep center. Neccial followed with the same stunt.

Another Tally

In the sixth, the home team added another tally on a walk and error.

There was one consolation for the Ozarks. Last night's misery didn't last long. It took only one hour and 35 minutes to play the game.

PIAA Track Meet Lures 800 Schoolboy Hopefuls

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UP) —The annual scholastic sports extravaganza this week end reaches a peak today with some 800 high school athletes competing in the 31st annual PIAA track and field championships.

Top interest lay in the performances of two athletes who already have broken national scholastic records in district meets, in the javelin throw and high hurdles, but state marks in other events also were considered vulnerable.

The national record breakers were Jan Sikorsky, of Ramsay high, Mount Pleasant, Westmoreland County, who hurled the javelin 222 feet, 10¾ inches, and George Hearn, Lower Merion, Montgomery County, who ran the high hurdles in 13.9 seconds. Both performances bettered long-standing records.

Sikorsky pulled a back muscle in the District 7 (WPIAL) meet at Mount Lebanon last week when he made his record toss.

More Records Seen

With favorable weather, outstanding performances were looked for in the pole vault, the 440, half-mile and mile relays, discuss and shot put.

Norbert McNulty, of Ridley Township, Delaware County, defending champion in the pole vault, bettered a nine-year-old state record with a vault of 13 feet in the district trials.

The 440 featured a classy field that included Tom Anderson, Lower Merion; Phil Reed, Chester; Mike Johnston, Connellsville, and Bob Raemore, Williamsport. All were regarded capable of erasing the 48.7 seconds clock set last year by Dick Hambright, of Tyrone, now of Penn State.

Lower Merion bettered the state-half-mile record in district trials and Chester missed in the mile relay by only a fraction of a second.

Lower Merion was conceded an excellent chance of winning the Class A team trophy, won last year by Williamsport.

Dan Ficca, Mount Carmel, hurled the discus 160 feet in qualifying trials last week, just six feet short of the state mark set last year by Andy Stynchula, Latrobe. The shot put record was broken by Bill Taylor of Pottsville, also in the district trials.

Hurdle Record At Stake

In Class B competition an individual mark in jeopardy was that of Viscount Nelson, Oxford Area School, Chester County, in the 180 low hurdles. He ran the event in 20.0 seconds last year. Dan Maloney, who was runner-up to Nelson last year, has run the event in 19.9.

Class A defending champions included Hearn, McNulty, the Williamsport mile relay team and Low Ireland, Manheim Township, Lancaster County, in the javelin.

Class B defending champions were Nelson; Milt Dickerson, of Scotland, 440; Stan Hugo, Athens, pole vault; Bob Worrell, Centerville, shot put, and the Darby Borough, Delaware County, mile relay team.

Campanella, Newcombe Join Talents to Pull Brooks Close

By MILTON RICHMAN

Two long-time roommates, Roy Campanella and Don Newcombe, cooperated to bring the Brooklyn Dodgers to within two games of first place.

Fresh from a five-game benching for weak-hitting, Campanella returned to the lineup Friday night and blasted two homers to drive in four runs in a 6-0 victory over the New York Giants.

Newcombe struck out six, didn't walk a batter and scattered nine hits in pitching his sixth straight complete game and registering his fourth victory.

Campanella hit both his homers off loser Johnny Antonelli while Carl Furillo added another off Giant reliever Steve Ridzik.

The victory moved the Dodgers into a second-place tie with Milwaukee, two games behind the first-place Redlegs, who bowed to the Cardinals, 9-6, Friday night.

The Cubs licked the Braves, 5-1, and the Phillies defeated the Pirates, 7-3.

Indians Move Up

Cleveland climbed to within two games of the American League lead by snapping the White Sox' nine-game winning streak, 4-3; Boston beat Baltimore by the same 4-3 score; the Yankees mauled the Senators, 8-1, and rain caused postponement of the Detroit-Kansas City contest.

The Cards snapped a five-game losing streak in their victory over the Redlegs but they got a scare in the ninth when Cincinnati rallied for four runs. Reliever Larry Jackson posted his fifth victory although Hoyt Wilhelm was the one who finally put the Redlegs' fire out.

Rookie outfielder Frank Ernaga, playing in his first major league game, homered in his first trip to the plate for the Cubs and followed with a triple off loser Warren Spahn to help trip the Braves. Moe Drabowsky went the route for Chicago.

The Phillies used home runs by Chico Fernandez, Rip Repulski, Granny Hamner and Willie Jones to hand the Pirates their 11th defeat in the last 14 games. Bob Friend, the loser, gave up the first three homers while Luis Arroyo was nicked for Jones' circuit. Rookie Jack Sanford recorded his fifth victory.

Rocky Colavito drove in three of Cleveland's four runs against Chicago even though he got only one hit, a single. His single drove in Bobby Avila with the winning run in the seventh, and he also walked to force in a run in the first and hit a sacrifice fly in the fifth. Bob Lemon started for Cleveland but was forced to leave the game with a severely strained left thigh in the seventh. Reliever Dick Tomanek was the winner and Bill Fischer the loser.

Lapse Beats Orioles

Pitcher Art Ceccarelli's eighth inning mental lapse enabled the Red Sox to score the winning run against the Orioles. With one out and runners on first and third in the eighth, Gene Stephens hit an easy grounder back to the mound. Ceccarelli tossed the ball to first, retiring Stephens but Dick Gernert raced home with the deciding run.

Chamberlain to Stay at Kansas

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UP)— Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, seven-foot basketball All-America, said Friday he plans to return to Kansas this fall and continue working towards a degree.

Chamberlain issued a statement dispelling rumors that he might quit collegiate basketball to join the Harlem Globetrotters.

Homers Swamp Bucs as Phils Win, 7 to 3

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-3, Friday night on the strength of four home runs to move within two games of second place.

The Pirates jumped into a 1-0 lead in the second on two wild pitches by the Phillies' rookie righthander Jack Sanford but Chico Fernandez hit a home run and Gran Hamner doubled home Richie Ashburn who had singled.

Pittsburgh collected two more in the fourth on a double by Frank Thomas, a walk to Bob Skinner, a single by Dick Groat and an error by Fernandez.

Umpire Stan Landes cleared the heckling Pirates bench during a sixth inning hassle and the Phillies jumped ahead on a three run homer by Rip Repulski.

Hamner then hit a fluke inside the park home run in the seventh when outfielder Roberto Clemente overran a liner down the right field line. Willie Jones added an insurance run in the eighth with another homer.

Landes, who left only manager Bobby Bragan and coach Danny Murtaugh on the bench during his sixth inning house cleaning, paved the way for it in the fifth by ejecting usually mild mannered Vernon Law.

DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

By CARY MIDDLECOFF

Loss of Backswing

Backspin is important! You get a maximum of underspin (or backspin) on a golf ball by hitting it with with a crisp, downward blow that brings the clubhead into initial contact with the ball at the lowest possible point on the ball. A ball hit on the underside spins backward.

That, in general, is the theory of backspin. The grooves in the face of your club accentuate the backspin as the ball goes up the clubface before taking off. The deeper the grooves, the more the backspin.

Many players lose backspin by failing to clean these grooves after each shot — or before using the club on a shot where maximum backspin is essential. I think you will be surprised at the difference it will make to have your clubface grooves clean and not clotted with grass and dirt for this type shot.

A wooden or plastic tee is a useful gadget for cleaning out these grooves. A small knife is better, if you happen to have one

Jackson Signs To Challenge Floyd Patterson

NEW YORK (UP)— "In 15 rounds I'll chase him into the canvas," challenger Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson said today.

Shrugging off the odds that make him a 4-1 underdog for his newly signed July title fight with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, Tommy recalled, "I was comin' on strong at the finish of 12 with him last year."

Nevertheless, odds-man Eddie Borden quotes young Patterson a firm 4-1 favorite, and a 7-5 choice to knock out the Hurricane in their championship fight at the Polo Grounds, in the last week of July.

Promoter Emil Lence also laughed down the odds and declared the Patterson-Jackson title fight "such a terrific attraction" he may take a $175,000 gamble and show it on theatre-TV instead of home-TV.

Lence has guaranteed Patterson about $70,000 and Jackson about $35,000 from the minimum $175,000 he can accept from any brand of TV, according to the contracts signed Friday.

Patterson, 22, won a split 12-round decision over the Hurricane, 25, at Madison Square Garden, June 8.

Roush's Gulf Service Advises Extra Car Care in Hot Weather

Severe heat is just as hard on any piece of machinery as real cold weather and that is why your car right now, going into the real warm days of late Spring and with Summer coming up, needs added attention.

Your battery should get extra care. Be sure and have your favorite gasoline station attendant check it at frequent intervals. He'll be glad to do it for you. Keep it properly charged. There's nothing worse than having the power house of your car break down. If you need a new one, get it right away. A good battery is a cheap investment, often gives you several years of top and dependable service.

Have the radiator checked frequently, too. Have him look at hose connections to see they are firm, not rotting away. A heated up motor can cause you trouble and even a costly garage bill.

The condition of your tires for driving fast on hot summer roads is highly important. If you must even borrow money, keep good tires with plenty of tread on that automobile. Your life and that of the occupants of your car may depend on this. Good tires, like batteries — depending of course on how many miles you drive — will often last several years, too, for the average driver.

Then keep new oil in the crankcase and have a lubrication job done every 1,000 miles.

If you'll drive to the Roush Gulf Service, corner of Manown and Schoonmaker in Monessen, John Roush, the proprietor, or an attendant will see to it that your car gets all the above checks. And it will be done right and those fine Gulf oils and greases used to give your car greater life and better performance.

You'll like dealing at Roush's Gulf Service.

Sun-Proof Gives 'Just Painted' Look to House

Why not "perk up" your house with a fresh, new color scheme?

That "just-painted" look is here to stay when you use Pittsburgh Sun-Proof, America's finest house paint it is claimed, sold at Derby's Construction & Supply, 443 Donner avenue in Monessen.

Derby's says it is the only house paint with fume-resistant pigments and Vitolized oil. Controlled oil penetration makes Sun-Proof look better longer!

Now's the ideal time of the year to paint your home and you will enjoy its beauty this Summer and for some years to come if you use durable, economical Sun-Proof.

You add extra years of sparkling beauty to the life of your home, dollars to its value, when you paint it with Sun-proof. This famous house paint is made with fume-resistant pigments and special Vitolized Oil which controls penetration. That's why your home will keep its "just-painted" look years longer. And with Sun-proof's wide range of more than a hundred Maestro Colors to chose from, you can give it a completely new personality that is distinctively your own.

Much of the oil in ordinary paint soaks into the wood being painted. This leaves the paint coat starved and brittle — ready to crack and peel with severe weather changes.

Sun-Proof's Vitolized Oil is treated to control penetration. Only enough oil goes into the wood to insure a firm bond. The rest stays in the paint film to resist weather.

Sun-Proof is also available in durable, long-lasting Titanic Outside White. Special fume-resistant pigments protect it against smoky atmospheres and fuel fumes which speedily discolor ordinary paint. Sun-proof is self-cleaning, too — dust and dirt are washed off with each rain, keeping the surface fresh and crisp throughout its life.

Forester's Has Many Supplies Used Right Now

This, of course, is officially Spring and everyone — or almost everyone — is out in the garden, working over the lawn, planting vegetables of some kind, or cultivating the ones they put in the form of seeds in the ground earlier in the Spring.

That means you'll need articles from the Forester Plumbing & Heating firm, 910 Knox avenue in Monessen, a store that has served this city and area for a number of years.

Here you'll find garden seeds and flower seeds if you want to do some more planting, hoes, rakes and other garden tools to help keep the surroundings of your home attractive and neat looking.

After all, the exercise will do you good too, particularly if you've been tied down in a store or an office all day and don't get much physical exercise.

Then Forester's has that famous White's prepared paint which is ideal for this Valley since it is acid-resistant. Now would be an ideal time to have that house painted, beautify it and preserve it. Paint is always a good investment. And you won't make a mistake using White's from Forester's.

O'Brien's Satin Finish for walls and woodwork is also sold here and you can do a lot of this painting yourself at nights or in your spare time. O'Brien's is easy to spread, even an amateur can get good results.

Plumbing and heating supplies and housewares are also sold at Forester's. You'll like this friendly store.

Highlander New Maytag Washer At Burger's Now

You housewives will solve your washday worries for many years to come if you'll drop in the Burger Appliance store, 409 Schoonmaker avenue in Monessen, look over that new Maytag Highlander washer and then buy one.

For once you see it you'll want to own it.

Burger's is also the home of Philco appliances and here again you have a chance to modernize and beautify your home this Spring with the best.

This brand new thrifty washer, however, has features found only in higher priced models.

And here are some of them

Modern styling — Full width, raised back panel with coppertone accent and sparkling trim usually found in top-of-line models.

Build in suds saver — Permits re-use of your hot sudsy wash water. The same system found in other washers costs many dollars more.

Selective water level control — Lets you adjust water level to the size of the load, saves up to 8 gallons of water on small loads.

Lid shut off switch — When lid is fully opened all washer action stops. Added convenience and safety found in no other washer at this price.

Flexible controls—Fills, washes, rinses, spins damp dry and shuts off all automatically. You can repeat or omit any cycle phase.

Unbalance switch — Automatically shuts off washer in case of unbalanced load, prevents possible damage to washer. Efficient water extraction.

Exclusive gyrafoam washing action — Forces water gently through clothes — washes cleaner, quicker.

Exclusive swirlaway draining rinse — Wash basket spins while tub drains. Never lets dirty water strain through clothes.

Aerated spray rinse — Provides more efficient flushing, and cleansing action . . . and many other outstanding features!

Lucas Paints Can Beautify Home For Many Years

When you paint your home with Lucas paints, sold by the Monessen Hardware & Supply, 109 Sixth St. you need not have to worry about painting every year. It doesn't wash off or wear away that easily

For more than 100 years John Lucas and Company has been distinguished as a manufacturer of fine quality paint products. Its extensive laboratories continue to pioneer improvements bringing the ultimate in decorative beauty and long service to homes throughout America and many foreign countries.

Lucas paint-making equipment is the most modern and efficient available. Service records of twenty-five years and over are not very commonplace in the factory. With this rich background, you can be sure that any product carrying the Lucas label is as fine as quality ingredients, facilities and experience can make it.

Now is the ideal time of the year to do exterior painting and the Monessen Hardware & Supply will be glad to furnish you with fine Lucas paints, brushes, turpentine or other items you need to have the job done right.

Kem-Tone is another fine wall paint sold at this hardware store.

And you'll also find a big line of garden tools, garden seeds, ladders, and other articles needed to work in and around that lawn and garden of yours.

Here is a modern Monessen store always ready to serve you.

Edwin Melenyzer, funeral director.

3 Memorials

In loving memory of Clyde E. Keller, Sr., who departed this life four years ago today, May 25, 1953.
In God's design of life for us,
That He, Himself has planned,
There are so many hidden things
We do not understand.
But He could have us know His plan,
It's such a wonderous one.
That when we do not understand
To say Thy will be done.
Mattie Keller, Mrs. Sally McShaffrey

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Virginia Moats, who died one year ago today, May 25, 1956.
We lost a Mom with a heart of gold
Who is more to us than wealth untold.
Without farewell she fell asleep
With only memories for us to keep.
We have lost but God has gained
One of the best mothers the world contained.
Sadly missed by Husband and Children

Industrial Firms To Compromise in Machinery Tax

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Representatives of Allegheny County industrial firms were reported ready to compromise their fight for repeal of the machinery tax imposed by the county and numerous municipalities.

According to the reports, the firms are willing to accept transfer of the present 95 million dollars in machinery assessments to the real estate rolls, providing new machinery will be tax-exempt.

The state House of Representatives has passed a bill repealing the machinery tax and it is now in committee in the Senate. Allegheny County communities which impose the tax vigorously oppose repeal because no source to replace the lost revenue is provided.

The Allegheny County commissioners, who early had backed repeal, last week reversed their position charging that industry was unwilling to co-operate in the seeking of revenue sources to make up for loss of the machinery tax.

Detroit Family Strikes Against Head of House

DETROIT (UP)— A Detroit family went on strike Friday against the head of the household, who represents management. But it was all strictly business — not a family matter.

Wilfred Swan, 52, is manager and secretary of the Federal Credit Union which serves employes of the nearby Chevrolet gear and axle plant. His wife, Hilda, 52, and daughter, Lorna, 24, were among six members of the office staff who walked out Friday when management refused to approve a new contract. They were striking for pay raises of $3 50 weekly and fringe benefits.

Lorna, who joined her mother among the pickets, said, "We walked out on the busiest day—pay day at the factories. That's to show them we mean business."

Swan's wife said, "I know this is tough on Wilfred, but we figured we've had just about enough."

Soviet Has Thorough Educational System

(The last of two dispatches on the Soviet education system by the vice president and director of the Fund for the Advancement of Education established by the Ford Foundation.)

By ALVIN C. EURICH

NEW YORK (UP) — The Russian looking at our educational system would probably say, "pretty soft."

In Russia, the schools are in session six days a week, 10 months a year. For the ninth and 10th grades, youngsters are in class about seven hours a day. They are expected to spend another five hours or so on homework.

By 1960 all Russian youth will be required to complete secondary education which extends from ages 7 to 17. Such compulsory education is now in effect for about 70 per cent of the young people.

A rigid curriculum, including five years of physics, is prescribed by the Ministry of Education. The only freedom of choice is in foreign languages, where in larger schools the student elects French, German or English. After making his choice, he studies the language for six years.

Other requirements include, 10 years of Russian language and literature, seven years of history and social studies, with emphasis on the Soviet Union and the Communist Party, 10 years of arithmetic, four years of chemistry, one year of astronomy, five years of biology and botany and six years of Geography.

Practical Course Also

Students also take practical courses in surveying, drawing, machine construction, wood working, metal working and agriculture.

And before they finish the 10-year school they must know how to drive an automobile, a tractor and a truck.

At the end of the seventh and 10th years the Ministry of Education checks on the school system and individual pupils through state examinations, written and oral.

Admission to a university or some other institute of higher learning is based on these examinations, scholarship records and such additional tests as the faculty may require. Russia has therefore surpassed us in providing equal opportunity for higher education in relation to ability regardless of economic status.

Throughout the Soviet Union there are almost 800 institutions of higher learning with more than two million students this year. For others there are 1,000 post-secondary technical schools (tekhnikums) training technicians for industry, medicine, education and other fields.

U.S. Turnout Surpassed

During the next four years the Russians are likely to graduate two and one-half to three times as many engineers and scientists as the United States.

In contrasting Russia's education system with ours, I was inclined at first to think that we must be educating more creative minds. Then I recalled the kind of education which produced the creative minds that spawned our major new developments of this century — Einstein, Fermi, Urey, Bohr, Rutherford and others.

Most of them were educated in a system far more rigid than ours. Without a reexamination, we must not jump to the conclusion that our system is better for developing creative minds.

Nor can we conclude that the Russians have the best educational system. They themselves are working intensively to broaden and improve it.

The very able rector of the University of Leningrad, A. D. Alexandrove, in talking with us about their weak points, said they must raise the quality of their scientific training, provide students with more freedom for study and not merely stuff them as sausages.

Clearly Russian education is by no means static. If a thorough education means anything in strengthening a nation, Russia is clearly gaining ground.

The human heart rests about eight-tenths of a second between each contraction.

Life Is A Little Too Easy Now

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

GETTING fat? Then you're probably taking things too easy.

Mechanization, automation — all these scientific advancements have made it awfully simple for many of you to put on unnecessary weight.

Most of you housewives for example, used to use up something like 250 calories every hour by scrubbing floors washing clothes and doing other manual household chores.

Now you perform the same tasks with the aid of washing machines and dryers, vacuum cleaners and floor polishers. And you use up less than half as many calories each hour.

Yet your eating habits probably haven't changed. You eat just as much as you did when you worked off twice as many calories.

The same thing applies to you men, too.

In a recent issue of the American Heart Association publication Dr. Herbert Pollack points out that the average man expends about 100 calories in walking a mile. But how many men walk much with automobiles, trains, buses and other forms of transportation so accessible?

Dr Pollack who is an associate professor of clinical medicine at New York University's Post-Graduate Medical School, observes that even the farmer has modernization troubles. He used to walk behind a plow for many hours a day and use 400 calories per hour, but now he rides a tractor and uses only 10 calories per hour.

Persons over 30 don't become greatly overweight overnight. Obesity is a gradual process.

Maybe you'll gain only a few pounds a year, but in 10 or 20 years, this mounts up. One day you'll suddenly realize that you are carrying around about 30 or 40 pounds too much.

While you've got to watch your diet and cut your calorie intake to keep your poundage down, walking more often will help some, too. Besides it's good exercise.

Bright New Hollywood Star Is Former Model

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—One of the bright new stars of 1957 is a startling Texas redhead who claims she doesn't give two pins for money or stardom and who is setting a new record as the most talkative actress in town.

Aline Mosby

Suzy Parker is a top New York high fashion model one of those tall creatures with high cheekbones and a bored, elegant look.

As photographer Richard Avedon's favorite model, she was seen as a model in "Funny Face" a movie based on his life. Suzy was such a sensation she was given as her first speaking role the co-starring job with Cary Grant in "Kiss Them For Me" at 20th Century Fox Studio.

Suzy is such a noted high fashion model she took a big salary cut to be a movie star, and you expect a haughty sophisticate. But in person she's a unique ex-tomboy who is not an imitation of Marilyn or Grace or Audrey but a new type all her own.

The promising star's most prominent characteristic is that she is talkative. Suzy talks so much she's suddenly very popular with the press which suffers daily from non-bright, near-silent actors. All you have to do is turn Suzy on and sit back and take notes.

"I really don't believe in publicity because I don't care for personal success," rattled off Suzy. "What other people think of me means absolutely nothing.

"I work only for the personal satisfaction. I'll always work because I have to be busy, because money is the only way a woman can buy her independence. At this time I'm a bachelor and I intend to stay this way for quite some time but when I do marry I'll never lean on a man. I must never feel like I'm trapped.

"I don't go to cocktail parties. I don't date. I don't drink or smoke or go to nightclubs. Strange men don't call me up. I intimidate them. There's something about me, people respect me. I don't believe in flirting. If I like people I tell them so. I can't cook. I'm lost in the kitchen.

"I talk so much I drive all the men crazy, anyway," concluded Suzy.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. B-435

DESIGN B-435. A feeling of the popular ranch home is achieved in this fine two-bedroom home with attached garage. From the garage a covered stoop leads to the rear entry, full basement and kitchen with built-in cabinets and dining space.

The larger-than-usual bedrooms have wardrobe closets and cross-ventilation. Storage space includes coat closets, linen cabinet and general storage closet.

The exterior features a picture window set in stone which, along with the stone planter, provides an excellent contrast to the wide siding on the remainder of the house. Floor area is 1102 square feet, cubage is 20,387 cubic feet.

For further information about DESIGN B-435, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Comfort, Convenience Keynote for Summer

Comfort and convenience are the keynotes for this summer's outdoor living. The days of "roughing it" are gone, thanks to the multitude of products made especially for the camper, picnicker, sun bather, and sports spectator.

Once going on a picnic meant having sandwiches and potato salad or a hot dish, thickly wrapped in newspapers to prevent it from cooling off. Now it can mean anything from steaks and roasts to frankfurters and hamburgers, prepared right on the spot to individual tastes.

Portable charcoal grills make the whole outdoors your kitchen. lightweight aluminum furniture allows comfortable, "lean-back" relaxation, and new featherweight transistor radios enable you to carry entertainment everywhere.

Although most people use their grills mainly for "patio parties" and backyard cooking. Arvin Industries home economists have found that increasing number of persons are taking the grills to parks, beaches, and on vacations. Cooking over charcoal has become common-place on every outing.

Most grills have removable or folding legs and take up very little space. Ideal for use by campers in wooded areas, they lessen the danger of destructive fires caused by carelessness. Charcoal will not shoot off sparks and the metal bowl keeps the fire closely confined so you don't have to worry about dormant embers.

Also on the "going along" list is outdoor furniture. When first introduced, such furniture was meant primarily for porch and yard use. Now fishermen who like to be comfortable fit a chair over boat seats. Many sun bathers no longer lie on the sand, but instead stay comfortable on a folding chaise lounge they've carried along.

Because they fold so easily and are so compact and conveniently carried, lightweight chairs are excellent for use on picnics, while watching golf matches, and for carrying on camping trips.

Growth in the use of portable transistor radios has been spectacular. One reason is that they are no larger than a paper-bound book. Many operate on batteries the size of a flashlight cell and give amazing performance. In one test, an Arvin radio powered by six flashlight batteries played continuously for 2,200 hours.

On some beaches, portable radios are almost as numerous as swimmers. Hundreds of them dot the stands at baseball and football games, and even motorists without car radios use them.

Good food, relaxation, and entertainment form the dream picture of the perfect vacation for thousands of folks. How better can the dream be fulfilled than by eating food cooked over a charcoal fire, leaning back in a restful chaise, and listening to good music on your radio.

Pitched Roof Houses Are Easier to Cool

Air conditioning is more effective and less expensive to operate in a home with a pitched roof, according to a leading research engineer in the field of home cooling.

"The larger the air space in a well-ventilated attic, the greater the protection from outside heat," says Prof. John R. Watt of the mechanical engineering department of the University of Texas. "Flat or shed roofs have virtually no protective air space."

Professor Watt told an audience of air conditioning engineers and members of the National Association of Home Builders that:

"Doubling the amount of air space in the attic reduces heat absorption into the living areas by 75 percent."

This air space, combined with thick mineral wool insulation in the attic floor, reduces penetration of overhead heat so efficiently, Professor Watt says, that smaller air-conditioning units can be used and cooling costs are reduced by as much as half. For complete protection against summer heat, mineral wool also should be installed in walls and living area floors.

Professor Watt based his recommendations on research conducted at the Air Conditioned Village, Austin, Tex., where the operation of air-conditioning equipment in various types of homes was studied under actual living conditions.

A properly ventilated air space under a pitched roof acts to reduce heat reradiated from the roof to ceilings below by wiping off surface heat to carry it outdoors through the vent openings.

Many architects and cooling engineers advise light-color asphalt shingles for the roofs of air conditioned homes, since a light surface reflects more of the sun's rays. Asphalt shingles are available in many light colors to satisfy the individual tastes of most home owners.

Women Prefer Removable Windows

The official report of the government-sponsored "Women's Congress on Housing" held in Washington reveals that the majority of representatives prefer removable double-hung windows. R.O.W. window makers cite these advantages of the wood double-hung type:

They provide smart residential styling, convey an impression of warmth and charm, are natural insulators, and can be painted to blend with any interior or exterior color scheme. In addition, they provide a maximum of ventilation. Because they can be removed from the frame and handled indoors, they cut cleaning and painting time to a minimum.

Low-porosity in Steel

Although steel is widely recognized for its durability, low-porosity is another important feature of this metal. Low-porosity means, for example, that steel does not hold odors as a softer material often does. This is particularly important to such functional products as garbage cans and pails.

These containers, so often in contact with unpleasant-smelling refuse, must resist retaining foul odors or they'll soon smell as bad as the substances they contain. For this reason, most garbage cans and pails are made of galvanized steel which is steel coated with zinc. Because of the low-porosity of these steel containers, they are easily kept clean with an occasional hosing or rinsing with hot water.
